

EHAN SETTling TAMMANY ROWS.

Places on the Executive Committee for Warring Tigers.

It IS PLACATED.

Ex-Police Justice Burke Sit at the Council Board of the Braves.

John C. Sheehan, the Tammany leader, as a Great Harmonizer, is constrained to-day when the annual of the organization's standing for the year is made. The chairman and vice-chairmen of the executive committee are ex-officio members of the committee. The new men thereby he admitted to Tammany council are:

Thomas F. Gilroy,
William H. Burke,
P. J. Divver,
Thomas F. Grady,
L. Brown,
John W. Keller,
John F. Carroll,
George B. McClellan,
Congressman Amos J. Cummings.

The personal of the list indicates that in filling the places on the Executive Committee it was Mr. Sheehan's purpose, in addition to strengthening the committee, to open a way for the settlement of district quarrels.

Such quarrels are usually the result of the ambition of rivals to become members of the Executive Committee by being named as district leaders or associate leaders. Hitherto there has been no way of placing the vanquished, but the new arrangement makes it possible to settle disputes by giving one of the rivals a place in the Executive Committee through an appointment as chairman or vice-chairman of a standing committee. Should there not be enough committees to go around more can be created, as was done when Committees on Municipal Affairs, Public Improvements and Press were provided for at the last meeting of the General Committee.

Divver Will Be a Vice-Chairman.
The first quarrel that will be treated with Sheehan's harmony balm will be that in the Second District. Ex-Justice Divver will be made a vice-chairman of one of the new committees, and it is expected that as a result the Divver-Brown political feud will be immediately suspended. The leader of the district is a friend of Alderman Brown, so he is satisfied, and Mr. Divver has consented in view of his appointment, to call off the Committee of Twenty-five that was appointed at a meeting at the Divver Club a few days ago to present the district grievance to the Executive Committee.

A similar arrangement has been made in the Thirty-third District, where there was a contest between ex-Justice William S. Burke and Nicholas J. Hayes for the leadership. The Committee on Contested Seats determined on Thursday that Hayes had won fairly at the primaries and seated the delegation headed by him. To placate Mr. Burke it has been arranged that he shall be vice-chairman of the Committee on Municipal Affairs, of which ex-Mayor Gilroy is to be chairman. It is stated that he is entirely satisfied with the plan, and that harmony will be restored in the district.

Strengthening the Organization.

There are no other district quarrels to satisfy, so the remaining chairmanships will be given to men whose standing in the party will add strength to the Executive Committee. John C. Sheehan will, of course, continue as chairman of the Finance Committee, and John F. Carroll will be vice-chairman. George B. McClellan will continue as chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, ex-Justice Daniel F. Martin of the Committee on Law, and Amos J. Cummings of the Committee on Printing.

William Brown will be at the head of the Press Committee and John W. Keller will be vice-chairman. One of the new pieces will be given to Senator Grady.

This will increase the membership of the Executive Committee to ninety-three. It is said to be Tammany's intention to make a committee of at least 100 before the Greater New York campaign, and it may be still further increased by giving representation to the Brooklyn organization.

PURROY ORGANIZING

Home Rule Democrats Will Meet in Lyric Hall—Tammanyites Declare the Primaries Were Small.

A conference yesterday of County Clerk Henry D. Purroy, Thomas F. McManus, Senator Guy, ex-Senator Boyd, ex-Alderman Meade and others of the bolting Tammanyites, the lines were laid for the organization of the new home rule Democracy at Lyric Hall next Wednesday night. Mr. Purroy said he was very well satisfied with the result of the primaries on Thursday night.

The Tammany leaders claim the Purroy primaries were a fiasco in practically all of the wards. B. B. Wright said that, although the evening was liberally advertised in the annexed district, only two persons responded to the call for a primary at Clason and Westchester avenues.

SENATE ROLL IS COMPLETE AT LAST.

Richard R. Kenney Takes Delaware's Long Vacant Seat.

TYING CLEVELAND'S HANDS

Republican Senators Refuse to Give His Post Office Appointees Long Terms.

Washington, Feb. 5.—The vacancy which has existed in the Senate since March 4, 1896, by reason of the failure of the Delaware Legislature to elect a Senator from that State, is at last filled. The admission of Richard R. Kenney, who was elected by the Delaware Legislature, was presented by Senator Hoar (Rep., Mass.), and was accepted by a vote of 54 to 41.

Even Senators Chandler (Rep., N. H.) and Hoar (Rep., Mass.) recognized Mr. Kenney's right to be sworn in and to take his seat; suggesting, however, that the question of whether the Delaware Legislature which had elected him was a fraudulent body would be hereafter presented to the Committee on Privileges and Elections. Meanwhile Mr. Kenney holds the seat, and the forty-five States of the Union are now fully represented in the Senate by ninety Senators.

For two or three Executive sessions recently the Senate Post Office Committee, of which Mr. Chandler is acting chairman, has been criticised for holding up nominations. A count of the nominations shows that there are still with the committee a total of 185 nominations that have not been reported, and of these 85 are offices that have recently become Presidential by provision from fourth class, owing to increased receipts of the office. In almost all of these cases the President has nominated the incumbent, and Republicans say that if he were again confirmed the official would be given a term of eight years, which would, they argue, be unfair.

The State Department has received a full report of the Kellett affair at Chienmen, Siam, from Minister Barrett, which indicates that it was only a trivial affair, greatly exaggerated in importance, and that there has never been any occasion for sending a United States gunboat to Siam. It seems that Mr. Kellett, an unpaid official appointed by the Consul-General, sent two native servants at night to post a letter. One carried a cane, contrary to law, and was taken to jail, whence Kellett endeavored to rescue him without formality. In the resistance offered by the sergeant, Kellett was struck about the head and had his face scratched. Later in the evening the servant was released by the Siamese Commissioner, who sent a servant to inquire after Mr. Kellett's injuries.

Mr. Thurston (Rep., Neb.) continued his speech in the Senate to-day in opposition to the resolution of his Populist colleague (Mr. Allen), questioning the right of the Executive department to consent to a judicial sale of the property of the Union Pacific Railroad Company. His argument was to show that that disposition of the question was the legal and proper one. He had not finished his speech when the morning hour expired.

The War Department has been notified of the death of Captain Charles Bendito, at Jacksonville, Fla., yesterday, from Bright's disease. Captain Bendito was a native of Germany and was commissioned from the ranks in 1854. He was brevetted first lieutenant for gallantry at Trevilian Station, Va., in 1862, and as major for bravery in action against Indians at Canyon Creek, Mont., in 1877. He was retired from the cavalry in 1880 for disability, and since has risen to prominence in scientific circles as an ornithologist of the Smithsonian Institution.

Sir Julian Pauncefote presented Sir R. J. Cartwright and Hon. L. H. Davies, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, of Canada, to Secretary Olney this afternoon, and showed them through the State Department.

House Elections Committee No. 1, which has for several weeks been considering the contest brought by the late Populist candidate for the Vice Presidency, Mr. Watson, against the sitting member from the Tenth Georgia District, Mr. Black, adjourned today without voting on the majority report, which is now being prepared. It is understood this report favors Mr. Black. The committee will on Tuesday next finally dispose of the case.

IVORY WELCOMED IN HARLEM.

His Appearance at the Columbus Theatre Greeted by Prolonged Cheers.

The Columbus Theatre in Harlem was packed to the very doors last night. The chief attraction was Edward J. Ivory. The orchestra struck up "Hail, the Conquering Hero Comes" as he entered, and when the Irish patriot took his seat the theatre resounded with cheers. It is understood that Ivory will appear again at the theatre, but he would make no speech.

In the proscenium box occupied by Mr. Ivory were Mr. John F. McIntyre, Patrick J. Lyons, John J. O'Neill, William Lyons and Augustus Costello. In the opposite boxes Mr. Hammerstein and party.

PUBLIC WORK TO HELP THE NEEDY.

Strong Demand for the City to Give Employment to the Poor.

NEW PARKS LAGGING.

Commission to Seize East Side Property for Them Urged to Make Haste.

Philanthropists, sociologists, business men, politicians, all sorts of people who study conditions, are agreed that the city should do something to relieve the awful destitution of the East Side districts. Most of them agree that the best plan to adopt would be to set some branch of public work going which would offer employment to a large number of men.

It has been generally suggested that the opening of several parks on the lower East Side, involving the destruction of a lot of the worst tenement houses in the most crowded districts, would give employment to a large number of men and materially relieve the terrible distress of the destitute. Furthermore, say the advocates of the plan, the parks are badly needed, as is shown in the report of Richard Watson Gilder's Tenement House Committee, which points out the fact that 425,000 persons live in poor tenements in the lower East Side districts, out of sight and reach of a single breathing spot.

The Rev. Dr. Rainsford, rector of St. George's Church, is one of the advocates of the park-opening plan, and the members of the good government clubs all over the city are committed to it. The East Side Good Government Club, of which Jacob A. Rills is the executive officer, on Thursday sent a committee to urge Mayor Strong to hurry up the work of condemnation in the case of two of these small parks, sites for which have already been accepted. The Mayor promised to do what he could to hurry up the commission appointed to select the property for the Pitt Street Park, and proceedings are pending in Part III. of the Supreme Court for the appointment of appraisers to view titles of the property to be condemned for the making of the new park at Rutgers square.

Waiting for the Commission.
The Commissioners appointed by the Supreme Court to select the property necessary for the Pitt Street or "Bum Alley" park have been dawdling shamefully, said Mr. Rills, yesterday. "They have all the legal authority necessary to go ahead, and the money is ready to acquire the property as soon as it can be condemned. If it were a private corporation that wanted to get at this work, ground could be broken in ten days. The beginning of this work would give employment to many men and aid greatly in relieving the awful destitution prevalent on the East Side."

The Rev. Dr. Rainsford said he was in favor of the city pushing any work that would give employment to the thousands of men whose families are suffering for the necessities of life.

"The newspapers should agitate the subject," said he, "until all these men are put to work on public improvements. I have always been in favor of condemning and tearing down several blocks of the worst tenements of the East Side and turning the space into parks and breathing places. Now would be an excellent time to push these improvements."

Conference with Mayor Strong.
As a result of the call of the Good Government delegation Mayor Strong held a conference with Corporation Counsel Scott and Assistant Corporation Counsel Clark yesterday afternoon after the session of the Greater New York Charter Commission. The conference lasted for over two hours, and the Mayor's tenet was emptied. But no measures were decided upon looking to the hurrying up of the practical work upon either of the parks.

"We can't move any faster under the present laws," said Mr. Scott after the council was concluded. "We must await the action of the Commission in the case of the Pitt Street park, and we are just getting the Commissioners appointed to appraise the property for the Rutgers square park."

"I appreciate the fact," said Mayor Strong, "that we must do something to relieve the distress of the unemployed, and I've been trying to think of some plan. Public Works Department seems to me the only available channel for offering them employment, and I have been in consultation with the officials of that department regarding the matter."

NOBLE SAYS JULIA TRIED TO KILL HIM.

The Sculptor Told His Story at Yesterday's Hearing.

BUT HE LOVES HER STILL.

He Explained How Miss Price Cost Him Much and Lent Him Nothing.

In the private examination room of the Essex Market Court yesterday Magistrate Flammer presided over the continued hearing of the charge of grand larceny made by Julia Adelaide Price against William Clark Noble, the sculptor, whom she accuses of obtaining $2,000 from her on his promise to marry her.

Miss Price looked wonderfully pretty and demure, her apparently ingenuous innocence being undisturbed by any token of embarrassment while listening to accounts of her peculiar relations with Noble. Her pink cheeks took on a heightened color and her blue eyes flashed fire at statements she regarded as damaging.

Mr. Scott moved to dismiss the case on the grounds that Noble never obtained money from Miss Price, and that even if he had there could have been no promise to marry.

Magistrate Flammer remarked that Miss Price's bank book showed withdrawals similar to those she said she made on Noble's account, dating back before she knew him, and he commented on the continuance of her intimacy for some weeks after she found letters purporting to promise marriage to another woman.

Miss Catharine Dunn, who occupies the flat next to Miss Price, testified that Noble often called there, and that she had heard of the one whom he had entered, who heard a man's voice say: "Give me those letters, or I'll kill myself. For God's sake, don't tell the whole world I've got money."

Noble during his examination was more than once contradicted by Miss Price, and showed a curious mixture of love and bitterness, artistic melancholia and nervous excitement in his manner.

He told of his introduction to Miss Price (or "Julia," as he called her from time to time) in June, 1895. He said that he never got a cent from her in any way, but on the contrary had spent thousands on her, including hats from $5 to $45, shoes at $10, bonnet at $35, and so on.

"She threatened to kill me, and tried to, and I'll make you. You'll owe all I want when I get through with you. If you don't put up the Gormans' money, Noble is employed," will do for me. I told her I wouldn't put up and neither would the Gormans."

Mr. Scott again asked for a dismissal, and the case was adjourned till Monday, when Magistrate Flammer promised to give his decision.

When a baby is sent from Heaven, to gladden a mother's heart, her welcome is incomplete unless she bestows upon the little visitor an abundance of health and courage to meet life's varying vicissitudes.

A prospective mother's duty to her child as well as herself is to be in the best possible health and physical condition at the time the baby comes.

Hundreds of mothers have received inestimable benefit from Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the grandest strengthener in the world for delicate women. Taken early during the expectant time, it builds up the entire constitution and gives elastic vigor to the special organism. It shortens confinement; robs delivery of all its dangers and most of its pains. Fortifies the mother against accident or relapse and promotes an abundant supply of healthy nourishment for the child.

It is the only preparation of its kind devised by a regularly graduated, skilled specialist of over thirty years experience.

The subject of women's reproductive physiology is comprehensively treated in Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page free book the "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser." The chapter on nursing should be read by every mother. This splendid volume will be sent you paper-bound absolutely free if you send 21 cents in one-cent stamps, to pay the cost of a mailing only, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y. If French cloth, embossed covers are preferred, send ten cents extra (31 cents in all) to defray the additional expense of this more beautiful and durable binding.

Constipation can be quickly and permanently cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets.
